AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS

R. H. EDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS
(late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
No. 76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST.,

BOSTON).

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards
of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries.—
Copies of Specifications, Bonds, Assignments and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on legal forms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by order. Price One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining
the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed
if not immeasurably superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below give proof that none is MORE SU-CESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE
than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES
AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove that at no other office of this kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These form his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents
granted in the United States and Europe,
render him able, beyond question, to offer
superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington
to procure a patent, and the usual great delay
there are here saved inventors.

FOR SORE, WEAK, INFLAMED EYES AND EYELIDS.

A true specific, and invaluable remedy has been at last discovered. Dr. Humphreys argues that these afflictions invariably result from a constitutional disease, of which the local affection is only the outward manifestation. Hence HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC OPHTHALMIA PILL are only taken internally, and yet cure the worst forms of obstinate sore eyes and eyelids, which have resisted all other treatment. All cases of sore and inflamed eyes and eyelids, or failing, weak or defective sight, will be promptly benefited, and the cure of the worst cases is only a question of time.

city are poor. Most of them, however are economical, and their wealth probably doubles every year. One negro citizen has real and personal estate valued at $300,000; most of this is inherited. The moral character of the negro element varies with the varied social conditions of its several components. We hear of few colored pickpockets, although there are many noted colored burglars. In our walks among them we have found a degree of taste, talent, and industry, surpassing our most sanguine expectations. We make public below some details of our visits among the colored people's of the city.

VISITS TO THE COLORED UPPER TENDOM.

Placing ourselves under the patronage of a well-known colored gentleman, we were invited to pass an evening in sundry calls among his people. A night was set apart for this delicate task, and at an early hour we paused before the door of a cleanly dwelling, in South street near Eighth. A silver plate beneath the polished bell handle contained his name, and on the threshold, smiling with benevolence, our host waited to receive us. He welcomed us in an easy yet gratified manner, and we passed through a long hall, panelled in imitation of granite columns, to a stairway with walnut balustrades. The carpet had been taken up in the hall and parlor, to provide for house-repairing, and we saw it nicely folded in a niche beneath the stairway. It was a chaotic pattern, of Brussels manufacture. The parlor, in the second story, to which we were summoned, was situated over a furniture store. It was roomy, and panelled in a plain, cheerful style. There was an utter absence of everything gaudy, and the glittering trappings, supposed to be inseparable from the taste of the Ethop. existed neither in the host nor the hostess.

We sat down to talk. The ultimate destiny of the black man was discussed, our host opening that his struggle for a habitation and a name must be in America. He said that his people were attached to the Republic, notwithstanding many disadvantages imposed upon them, their hope being strong that patience and good citizenship would eventually soften the prejudices of the white. Tempted as they were to our habits and clime it would be cruel to place them on a strand but dimly known, where surrounded by savages, they might become savages themselves.

There was to us a sincere pleasure in our host's discourse. He is one of the leading public men among his people, and has much of the ease and polish peculiar to the well-bred Caucasian. He laughed at times, but never boisterously, and in profounder moments, threw a telling solemnity into his tone and expression. When the head was averted, we heard, in well-modulated speech, such vigorous sentences and thoughtful remarks that the identity of the speaker with the proscribed race was half forgotten; but the biased eyesight revealed only a dusky son of Ham. On a "what-not" table were clustered a number of books. Most of them were anti-slavery publications, although there were several volumes of sermons, and a few philosophical and historical books. We turned the conversation to literature. He was well acquainted with the authors he had read, and ventured some criticisms, indicative of study. From the countenance of his face were very dear to him.

It is but just to say, that he has passed many years in constant companionship with Caucasians.

ATTENTION! WIDE AWAKES.

EVERY MEMBER will be at Wide Awake Hall, TO-NIGHT, at 7 o'clock PRECISELY, in uniform, to escort our delegation to the New York boat. Tickets only $2 to go, and return. Can be found at the stores of W. S. N. Allen, Thomas A. Spencer, 2d, C. G. Handy, C. H. Burdick, TO-DAY, until 6 o'clock, and at the Hall at 7.

Per order, R. R. HAZARD, Jr., Secretary.

THOSE AWFUL WIDE AWAKES.

No sensible man expects to find treason and rapine under the red cloaks of the Union torch-bearers that figure so largely at the Bell-Douglas gathering in New York and other cities, where those parties can muster a sufficient number of men to make a respectable parade, why is it, then, that men sensible on other points, and in the ordinary intercourse of social life, regarded as prudent and sagacious, should be so wild and insane over the purposes concealed beneath the black capes and flaming oil of the Wide Awakes? To read some of the sensation papers of the North and most of the journals of the South, one would suppose that they really believed that the Wide Awakes were an organized army of John Browns, thirsting for an opportunity to invade the peaceful homes of Virginia.

A simple and novel preliminary element in a political campaign, introduced and fostered by one party, and IMMEDIATELY ADOPTED BY THE OTHER, is because of its success and the brilliancy added by it to the not always lively humors of the canvass," misrepresented, denounced, and held up as a hideous scarecrow, to move the excited imaginations of those who are only too ready to seize upon any object that will increase suspicion or distrust.

But, "the Wide Awakes have military drill." So HAVE THE UNION GUARDS, and the military drill is simply for the purpose of giving order and harmony to the shifting and unmanageable elements that form the usual baffle of a political or civic procession. The result is, a certain beauty and ease in the political demonstrations of the year, to be obtained only by discipline and the unanimity of a concerted plan, regulated by one directing mind, be it captain of two or captain of fifty. And out of this concentration of young men, whose interest in the success of party, leads to association in clubs, and who take pleasure in the military drill and the specific costume, lies this bugbear been raised. The attempt to inflame the Southern mind, is at once shameful and insulting. Shameful, because it misrepresents Northern sentiment and the purposes of the men who compose the clubs; and insulting, especially to the South, because it assumes that the Southern mind is of that callow innocence that is to be moved by a raw-head-and bloody-bones, and that it will, with child-like credulity, gorge itself with fables and romances, unable to distinguish the nature of the joke played upon it. We find, says the New York Commercial Advertiser, paragraphs like the following in leading papers of the South.

The organization, or chain of organizations, known as "Wide Awakes," is said to reach already four hundred thousand men, thoroughly drilled, and ready for any service which their leaders may demand at their hands. Their organizations are not yet armed, it is true, at least not that outsiders are aware of, but they are drilled, uniformed, and provided with rails, overcoats, and torches, ready for marching, rallying, and fighting.

It will be remembered that the front door of John Allstadt, of Jefferson, was broken open by Brown's party with a rail, hence we learn to interpret the peculiar equipment of these abolition cohorts; they parade at midnight, carry rails to break open our doors, torches to burn our dwellings, and beneath their long, black capes the knife to cut our throats.

There can be no mistaking the meaning of military organizations, nor does it need any suspicious pretense to point a moral to such names as "Zouaves," "Wide-Awakes," and "Rail-Splitters' Battalion." Are there no "Brown Avengers," or "Harper's Ferry Raiders" among them?

The purpose of this politico-military organization is to convert the government into a despotism, that will rely upon force to execute its edicts, and maintain it in power. State sovereignty will be crushed and the States, more independent on the central government, will be annihilated. The Union will become a mere military alliance.

It is not an understanding among your four hundred thousand officials, rank and file, that in the event of the introduction of slavery into any one or more of the territories of the United States, you are to send from amongst yourselves armed forces, in order to subdue the negro by force, and convey them to Canada?

Can anything be more absurd? Such ravings, if treated on their merits, would be best received in silence.

We can assure the South, and the sensation journals generally, that the Wide Awakes MEAN NO TREASON, NO INVADION, NO MASSACRE. They turn out to elect Abraham Lincoln, and whatever result betide Nov. 6th, they will thereafter "turn in," convert their rails into kindling wood, their torch handles into hobby horses for their children, their metal lamps into old brass, and their glass shades into spectacles through which to observe eclipses. Their oil will be thrown upon the troubled waters, and their overcoats will be laid up "against a rainy day."

The logical sequence so deftly followed out in one of the extracts above quoted from the Wide Awakes' RAIL TO THE MAIL that demolished "John Allstadt's door in Jefferson, astonishes us by its subtlety. Is it intended for a genuine argument, or is it only RAIL-LIBERTY? If the former, then the journal quoted, loses the opportunity for another instalment of Aristotle. Take the word "accoutrement." Would not this word (accent on second syllable, dialect Yankee), be pronounced acc-cow-trement, and so pronounced, be all ablaze with treason? For has not history recorded that after the suppression of the invasion at Harper's Ferry, a Wide Awake sentinel, mistaking a gentle member of the milky herd for an army with banners, incontinently discharged his gun thereat? So our journalist might lose himself in dialectical mazes, and discover no one knows what new horrors.

The South arms itself with guns and munitions of war, not disguising its purpose, and the North is only too happy to fill that "little order." A few Northern young men choose to stay up all night, with peaceful torches and unwarlike capes, and they are at once held up as second in ferocity and ambition only to the Goths and Huns. Out upon the folly and wickedness of those who thus pervert the truth, and sow dissension.

A BRECKINRIDGE CANDIDATE FOR ASSEMBLY DELEGATES FOR LINCOLN.—About two weeks since, the Breckinridge Democrats of the 11th Assembly District, Brooklyn, nominated Mr. Oliver T. Beard for the Assembly. Mr. Beard has always been identified with the Democrats, since he took no part in politics, and has been known as a constant Ham-Shell.

New and Beautiful Selection

of FALL GOODS, in both the ready made

is no necessity of our discussing the beauties

of the Cash system and the one price.

We adopted the former years ago; the latter,

and Chatham Street part, we were never

guilty of, have always had independence

enough to make our own price, to tell under what advantage we buy our goods. We buy them better than any other house in the city

in the same trade.

Purchasers of clothing we trust will now

call at the store that always treated them on the true principle of trade—one price and a small profit.
